

Welcome

SUFABU is an EU funded Erasmus+ project that response to the needs of European family businesses that currently face a task of intergenerational exchange. The project aims to create a flexible training system focused on the succession process in family businesses and, at the same time, to raise awareness of the obstacles that family entrepreneurs experience on their way.

Project Overview

Family businesses play a crucial role in sustainable economic development, job creation, regional support and competitiveness of the European countries. However, they face several specific obstacles which make it more challenging for them to survive in a long-term perspective. Among others, they face the challenge of transferring the company to the next generation. The SUFABU project's main objectives are to help family entrepreneurs to manage the succession process successfully and to raise awareness about the necessity of implementing family businesses into state legislation.

The main output of the proposed project is a complex and exhaustive learning platform based on different and complementary learning tools that will provide family entrepreneurs with skills, knowledge and competencies to prepare for intergenerational exchange and realize it as smooth as possible. Thanks to the training platform, family businessmen will learn how to plan the process ahead, how is the process handled in different countries, different contexts and different business backgrounds, what are the possible obstacles which could occur during the process and much more.

The project will:

- Create a summary state-of-the-art analysis on the situation of family businesses in partner countries;
- Compile a set of case studies that will introduce family businesses which already went through the succession process;
- Develop various training materials combined from OERs and short educating videos;
- Base all materials on an open website.

The project began in October 2019 and will run for 24 months. The consortium is made up from 7 partners from 6 countries.

1st Transnational Project Meeting

The project kicked off in Prague, the Czech Republic on 14. – 15. 10. 2019. The meeting was prepared by the project leader Association of Small and Medium-Sized Enterprises and Crafts of the Czech Republic in cooperation with the Czech partner INSTITUT INPRO.

The two-day meeting was an opportunity for partners to meet and to discuss the aspirations, timeline and deliverables of the project. Each partner is in charge of a different part of the project implementation and will be responsible for its delivery.

During the first meeting day, a workshop took place where each partner presented a brief overview of the situation of family businesses in their country to see and compare the differences. Followingly, partners discussed main aims and parameters of the first project output (IO1) – national and summary reports. The conscious will work on this output in the next few months and its final form will be freely available on the project website (currently under construction).
